

Leaders Of Both Races To Aid Of Colored Nurses

50 Signed Petition Opposing Discrimination in County Hospital.

(Pacific Coast News Bureau)

San Diego, Calif., Sept. 26.--

The recent hard won victory of the local colored citizens in obtaining admittance to the Nurses' Training school of the local county hospital was made possible thru the co-operation of prominent white social leaders of the city.

Following a meeting of the San Diego branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom held at the home of Miss Helen Marston, 3525 Seventh street, Mrs. Kate H. Dewing, chairman of the League, presiding, a petition to the San Diego County Board of Supervisors to grant the request of Negro girls to enter the county hospital for training as nurses, was signed by more than fifty women. The petition was presented by Miss Nellie Foster, head of the department of sociology of the San Diego State Teachers' College. 9-29-27

Opposed Discrimination.

In the general discussion that followed the passing of the petition, it was declared Negroes can not be legally discriminated against in public schools and should not be barred from the county hospital if they desire to receive education along the lines offered by that institution.

It was the opinion of the women that a trained colored girl will make an efficient nurse and that by entering the county hospital to receive training, she can in turn introduce improvements in their own hospitals and broaden the field of training workers in their own circle.

N. Y. NURSES GET MILLION DOLLAR TRAINING SCHOOL

A $1,000,000 Nurses' Training School has been approved by the Borough President of the Bronx, New York City, for the Lincoln Hospital School for Nursing, the first school for training colored girls for the degree of B.S.N. The new building will be a residence and school building. Fully equipped, it will cost $1,000,000.

Lincoln Hospital was inaugurated in 1839, as a home and infirmary for old and indigent Negroes. Its first location, in 1841 was at the Hudson River and Fifty-first street. It was moved several times before it was put at its present site in 1886, at One-hundred forty-first street. The Nurses' Training School, connected with the hospital, is twenty-nine years old.

The new structure is to be built on the different levels of rocks, which now mark the site. The entrance is to be on the boulevard side with a broad view of the river. One wing of the building will be used by graduate nurses and the other by undergraduates.

NEGRO GRADUATES NURSES TO MEET AT TUSKEGEE INST.

The twentieth annual convention of the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses will convene at Tuskegee Institute, August 9th to 12th. Few organizations in our group have had more rapid growth in terms of national influence in the past decade than the Graduate Nurses' Association. A large majority of our graduates throughout the nation are recorded in its membership and contribute both in time and money toward building up this professional group movement.

Miss Jane Van De Vrede, secretary of the State Board of Examiners of Nurses for Georgia, who is also chairman of the Committee on Joint Relations of the American Association of Nurses will be one of the speakers at the Tuskegee meeting. Mrs. Ludie Andrews, of Atlanta, is a prominent member of the Nurses' Association, who is chairman of the Committee on Joint Relations of the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses, will also attend the meeting. These two committees are charged with the duties of working out a relationship between the two national organizations that will increase the professional contact and usefulness each with the other.

It is expected that a very large delegation from all over America will be in attendance at this twentieth annual convention.

ANOTHER NEGRO NURSE NEEDED

Charlotte
Mass Meeting Will be Held Soon to Raise Fund for Nursing Association.

A mass meeting for the purpose of raising funds to employ an additional negro nurse for the colored branch of the city's co-operative nursing association will be held soon.

Announcement of the meeting was made at the city hall yesterday. It will be held at the Second Ward negro high school the first part of December.

BADLY NEEDED.

The additional nurse was described as "the greatest need" of the negro branch by Mrs. S. B. McPheeters, supervisor of nurses in the city health department.

She said that no increase in the negro staff of nurses had been made in six years and that the three negro nurses now associated with the department were "greatly overworked."

The Goodfellows club was said to have promised to assist in raising the money. Six hundred dollars is needed for the purpose.

SURVEY OF RURAL NEGRO CHILDREN ON IN ALABAMA

Vital Statistics Figures Being Collected; Tuskegee
Nurse Assists

Tuskegee, Ala.—The State of Alabama is making a somewhat detailed survey of birth and death conditions of people in the rural districts of the state. This survey is to cover three or more counties which will indicate typical conditions throughout the State.

Heretofore, it has been found very difficult to secure accurate, or reasonably reliable, figures on the vital statistics applying to Negroes of the more dense and remote sections. In view of the fact that it is now realized that the health and well-being of the whole populace is dependent upon a thorough knowledge and care of all of its components, a special effort is being made in this instance to secure correct data so that more extensive and practical activities may be carried on throughout the State.

Nurse E. V. Rivers, who for the past five years has been traveling over the rural districts of the State in conjunction with the operation of the Booker T. Washington Movable School, has been chosen by Dr. F. M. Welch, state health officer, to assist with the registration of births and deaths of Negroes in Wilcox, Monroe and Clark counties. The very excellent work which Nurse Rivers has done with the movable schools has fitted her admirably for the performance of her duties with the Bureau of Vital Statistics. During her absence from Tuskegee, Nurse Annie L. Bostick a graduate of Tuskegee Institute, will carry on the health program with the Movable School.

Government Gives Instructions To Colored Mid-Wives

Dr. Whipper, a colored woman with a degree of M. D., representing the United States department of Health, has just brought to a close a two months course of instruction to the colored mid-wives of Glynn County. There were some fifty in the class of whom thirty received certificates certifying to the satisfactory completion of the course.

The certificates were delivered to the successful students with impressive and interesting exercises. Only those mid-wives who received their certificates will be permitted to practice in this county, according to Dr. H. L. Akridge, commissioner of health, who is highly elated over the success of the school and the great benefit that will come from it.

Dr. Akridge states that only one in three children born in the state of Georgia have the benefit of a physician's care, and that fully sixty per cent of those born in this county have no physician, therefore, the proper training and education of the midwives of the county is highly necessary in order to reduce the infant mortality rate.

Public Health Work Reaching Rural Areas, Conference Is Told

Emory University, Ga., July 15.—(Special.)—That the great problem in public health work is reaching the rural counties with adequate service was brought out at the Friday morning session of the conference on public health at Emory University.

"Rich urban counties are perfectly able to employ health officials and nurses," said Dr. M. E. Winchester, director of county health work for the Georgia department of health, "but the counties with little tax valuation, comprising over half of the counties in the southeastern states, are already so overburdened with governmental expenses that they cannot find the funds for adequate public health service. He illustrated this fact with charts showing that of the 145 counties with organized health units in the southeastern states 125 had high tax values and high per capita income.

Remedies suggested and discussed included special aid for the poor counties from state funds, combinations of counties such as that proposed now by Fulton, Campbell and Clayton counties, and the grouping of several counties in one sanitary health district.

During Friday afternoon Miss Etienne Baldwin, of the American Association of Visiting Teachers, led a discussion of the relations between public health and social work. The newer developments in preventive medicine and mental hygiene have emphasized the importance of careful social investigation and family service both in diagnosis and treatment of disease, and the doctor and nurse are coming to value highly the cooperation of trained social workers.

The conference adjourned after the afternoon session.

NORTH HARLEM VISITING NURSE CENTER VISITED BY MANY HARLEMITES DURING OPEN HOUSE WEEK AT 202 WEST 136th ST.

In 1898, Miss Lillian D. Wald, a young graduate nurse of New York Hospital felt that because of the lack of hospital facilities in the neighborhood of the lower East Side, the people in that section of the city needed skilled nursing care in their homes. With a little money, a love for humanity, and a friend to share the work, the joys and the sorrows of the community, Miss Wald and her friend took rooms in a tenement and lived and worked with the people.

Soon after they started, they were able to interest friends to lend their financial support and more nurses were added to the staff until at the present time there are eighteen Visiting Nurse Service Centers in Manhattan and the Bronx with 200 nurses.

This year Miss Wald felt that every one in New York should and must know about the service, so the first Open House Visiting Nurse Service Week was held from October 24 to 29, inclusive.

Among the eighteen centers, there is one at 202 West 136th street. This center, North Harlem, was opened to the public so that they might come in to see what the 23 colored nurses, working in that center, are doing. They serve the community regardless of race, creed or color.

Demonstrations were held and general information regarding the service was gladly given. Some of the ladies of the nursing committee (a group of ladies in Harlem interested in the Center) served tea each afternoon from 2 to 5 p. m.

All of the nurses in the service are graduates and registered in the State of New York. They are "The guardians of New York homes."

The working hours are 8.30 a. m. to 5 p. m. If a family needs a nurse call Bradhurst 2050 or Edgecombe 9600, between 8.30 and 8.45 a. m., or 1.30 and 1.45 p. m. The nurses are in the field from 9 to 12.30, and 2 to 4.45. Calls reaching the center after the above hours cannot be answered until the following day.

Some people feel that they cannot get a nurse because they do not carry insurance with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., which sends a nurse to some of their policy holders (not all types of policies are entitled to care). Persons not insured may always have a nurse by paying a fee of $1.15 per visit, and to those who cannot afford any payment the service is free. All cases of illness regardless of fee, must have a physician also.

Beside giving general nursing care and advice in the homes a prenatal clinic is held at the Center daily, except Saturday. Patients not registered with a physician or hospital can by making an appointment, come in to our clinic.

Public Health Work, Colored Nursing Service

Nashville Council for Public Health Nursing

Two thousand, two hundred and ninety eight persons were under the care of the colored public health nurses, during the year of 1926, in the city of Nashville.

An attendance of 4,656 Negro mothers and babies at the free clinics held under the auspices of the Public Health Nursing Council during this year.

Nashville ranks among the six cities of the United States having excellent generalized Public Health Nursing Service, and the work of the colored Public Health Nurses, of which there are 9 on the staff, has added greatly to this record. Miss Nancy Rice is the Supervisor of the colored nurses. The Nashville Council for Public Health Nursing is one of the beneficiaries of the Community Chest, and is a co-operative association; with the City Health Department, Community Chest, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., Peabody College and the social settlements, co-operating. Mrs. Ivah Uffelman is general director of the nursing service.

The city is divided into 8 districts—one nurse is put in charge of each district. The Nurses who are regularly stationed here, with their districts, are:

Miss Elizabeth Brown, Hubbard Hospital District.

Miss Parthenia Reid, South Nashville District.

Miss Hattie Cunningham, East Nashville District.

Mrs. Mary Roberts, Bethlehem Center District.

Mrs. Bessie Morrison, West Nashville District.

Miss Sadie Frances Farnell, North Nashville District.

Miss Donald Rice, North Nashville District.

Hubbard Hospital Students District, South Nashville.

Misses Roberta Dickerson and Naomi Richards are extra nurses, who assist where the work is heaviest and take surplus calls, which the nurses in the district cannot handle, with their already full routine.

Hubbard Hospital affiliates with the nursing organization in sending their senior nurses for three months training in public health field work. A course of 12 lectures on Public Health Nursing is given to these nurses, at Hubbard Hospital Training school, under the direction of Miss Abbie Roberts, Director of Nursing Education, Peabody College and assisted by Miss Rice, Supervisor of the colored nurses of the Nursing Council.

The National Health Circle in New York City, of which Miss Belle Davis is Secretary, gave scholarships to 2 Negro nurses and they were sent to Nashville for 6 months experience in a southern field for Public Health Nursing. One nurse was a graduate, of Harlem Hospital, New York and was on the staff of the Henry Street Visiting Nurse Association.

The other was a graduate of Mercy Hospital, Philadelphia, Penn., and was on the staff of the Philadelphia Health Council, Philadelphia.

These nurses entered Columbia University in September for a course in Public Health Nursing. When this course is completed, under the term of the scholarship they will return to a southern field for at least one year's work. The fact that they were sent to Nashville speaks volumes for the work which is being done here in Public Health.

The infant welfare clinics which are held each week, are great factors in cutting down the death rate among the colored babies, which statistics show is abnormally high. In some sections of the country as many as 96 out of every 1000 born, die before reaching one year of life. Nashville has a death-rate of 97.1 among all babies. It is reported that a Negro girl baby faces 12 years less of life than a white girl baby, a Negro boy baby faces 9 years less of life than a white baby boy, and it is the work of the Public Health Nurses, distributing information as to how to keep well, which will make these figures change. At these clinics, the attendance last year was: The Bethlehem Center clinics 3,281. Dr. B. H. Ball held clinic on Tuesday a. m., assisted by Mrs. Mary Roberts and Miss Donald Rice.

Dr. O. H. Wilson held clinic on Thursday p. m., assisted by Mrs. Mary Roberts and Miss Donald Rice.

The Hubbard Hospital Clinic on Wednesday 1,128. Dr. B. H. Ball held this clinic, assisted by Miss Elizabeth Brown.

The Prenatal clinic at Bethlehem Center, attendance was 147. Dr. C. C. Harwell conducts this clinic, assisted by Mrs. Bessie Morrison.

The Meharry Medical students have the privilege of attending these clinics. During Negro Health week, 88 children were given complete physical examinations at Bethlehem Center by Physicians, assisted by one of the nurses.

Every effort is being expended to make the service of great value to the colored people of Nashville. At the Colored State Fair in October the nurses prepared a booth called "The Public Health Nurse," which showed all phases of their work. Free health literature was distributed. They also had a Red Cross tent with a maid employed to watch the children, who had a sand-pile provided for them, and a nurse constantly in attendance at the tent.

Dr. Overton, the City Health Officer, and the nurses are especially interested in the fight against typhoid and diphtheria. The City Health Department, which is now located at 801 Demonbreun Street, gives free inoculations against these diseases to those who can not go to their private physicians. The Health Department is open every day except Sunday, from 8 a. m., until 4 p. m., with the exception of Saturday when the hours are from 8 a. m. until 12 m. They wish all the colored people of the city could realize how important it is that their children be immunized against disease.

"According to reports from the various registration areas, the death-rate of Negroes from tuberculosis, heart disease, venereal diseases, malaria and typhoid fever, is considerably higher than that of the whites.

The National Health Circle says the only way to change these conditions, is to educate the Negro, individually and collectively, along health lines. "This can best be done by the well trained Public Health Nurse who has come to be invaluable in the development of home and community health."

To advance this cause is the Public Health Nurse working, and in her work among the colored people of Nashville, she is meeting with success. But they, the members of the nursing staff, always stand ready to reach more of the people and to render more and more service, so that the next generation may be a wiser one in the matters of health.
